Website Development

Full journey from concept to creation.

Simply put, good websites is what we do. Whether it is a complex and dynamic portal, a convenient online office, or a stylish Web-presentation of your brand - every website has it's own story and it's own purpose, and must be done properly in order to work.

We always work in step with your business, and do not believe in ready-made templates. The key is in understanding every client's unique vision, often by helping it to take shape, then adapting it into a concept, and then - raising it into something truly beautiful.

For each project, we are looking for a way that perfectly meets our Client's expectations - so the end product is always:

- Goal-oriented,
- Works exactly the way if supposed to,
- Stable and professionally done.

02

Web Hosting

Websites, emails, apps and more!

Tessella Studio provides its own convenient Web hosting for all of our customers needs!

Own hosting substantially facilitates the process of a website development and it's subsequent maintenance and well-being.

Among the benefits of our hosting there are: stable server operation, unlimited corporate mailboxes, clear rules of payment.

Three reasons "why" our hosting is a great supplement to the website development:

- Because we know all the technical details, contingency server load and all the pitfalls,
- Because we have full access and full control over the server software and settings,
- Because we do everything much faster!

We will always be glad to provide space for free testing of your website.

Graphic Design

Simple and stylish.

 Tessella Design Studio

There is no need to say much about Graphic Design. A good design is immediately recognizable. No beautiful phrases can close one's eyes to an outdated design, a bad markup, dim or confusing corporate identity... These things can be seen on the spot.

The same can be said about printing materials. A business card, a flyer or a brochure – any piece of graphics must attract, surprise and interest. This is exactly what we do.

So, what can we offer?

- Business cards,
- Promotional flyers,
- Brochures,
- Any printing materials,
- Corporate identity,
- Logos and other identity.

We cover your whole brand image development process – from color choice to implementation: business cards, flyers, brochures. By the way, by ordering a website from us, you can get all the tools for working on the market: website, corporate identity for printing materials - all together.

Flash Banners

Bright sales tools.
Quality presentation of an Idea.

 Tessella Design Studio

It is sometimes better to see once than read a hundred times, right?

Animated Web banners are a great example of this. And among them all, the best choice of a banner is a Flash banner. Gif banners are no match to it! Flash animation is smooth, beautiful, interactive and sells your offer quickly and efficiently.

We develop Flash banners of any required size, length and complexity. We produce static, animated, interactive and expanding ones. And furthermore, they are not just pretty. They are successful in performing their main task – they catch your Client's attention!

From 5 seconds banner to a infographic video, we know exactly how to make an effectively working sales tool, not just an Online Cartoon.

About Us

A couple of words about the Studio.

 Tessella Design Studio

What is the very essence of our work? We will not be talking about beautiful websites and increasing sales, every Web studio will tell you that. We will simply say yes, websites do sell. Beautiful websites do sell even better. That's correct.

But apart from that, there is a mission that we recognize, follow, and consider as our priority. That is a constant development of Web design as an important part of today's life. As a craftsman becomes better and better over time, our studio is constantly pushing it's limits in Web design.

The success of our studio is possible only in combination with constant development of Web industry itself - improving technology, usability and design. We do not just make websites, we strive to be at the forefront of Web development industry.
